Only Two Car Accidents Mar Week End In Crawford County

Only two car accidents occurred in Crawford County over a long period of July week end. Neither accident resulted from the collision of two cars and injuries were reported from only one of the mishaps.

Traffic running north and south through the county was at a terrific high level from last Thursday through Tuesday morning of this week. However the expected rash of traffic accidents did not occur in the county.

On Friday evening at 9:45 p. m., a car being driven north by Royston F. Hammond, 65, of Dearborn, crashed into the rear of a state corrections department-owned car driven by Lowell Rushing, 42, a prison trustee of 400 Cooper street Jackson. Investigating officers said. Both cars were traveling south and apparently the drivers were looking at a dead deer on the shoulder of the road when the crash occurred. Officers reported.

Hospitalized were Lindsay, with a crushed chest; Mrs. Lenna Lindsay, 67, his mother, of London, Ont., who suffered a fractured right knee and right hand and bruises; Lindsay's son, Byron Lindsay, 14, of London, Ont., who was held at the hospital for observation; and George Ford, 54, a state prison employee of Jackson, who was a passenger in the state-owned car.

Another passenger in the Lindsay car, his father, Colin Lindsay, of London, Ont., was not hospitalized. Damage to the Lindsay car was estimated at $1,000 and to the state-owned car, at about $600. Crawford County Sheriff John Papendick investigated.

Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, a car being driven by Robert J. Williams, 21, of Grayling, blew a tire and went out of control and overturned on the Jones Lake Truck Trail, northeast of Grayling.

The driver and his passenger, Miss Shirley Harney, 16, of Beaver Creek, were taken to Mercy Hospital. Miss Harney suffered severe cuts on her hand and head but is not seriously injured. Williams is suffering from a fractured vertebrae.

PARTNERS OPEN NEW RESTAURANT HERE

Mrs. Estelle Shaw and Herman Clark as partners have opened a new restaurant in Grayling. The eating establishment which will be known as "Herm's House of Fine Foods" opened for business over the Fourth of July weekend.

Mrs. Shaw has been a resident of Grayling about three years as has lived in this area of the state for about 14 years. For 5 years he was a partner in "Herm and Mike's", a well-known Houghton Lake Restaurant.

The new business is located at 100 Michigan Avenue in the building which formerly housed Tony's Billiards. It is located on the south side of the west end of Michigan Avenue.

The interior of the building has been completely redesigned and rebuilt. Newly decorated and furnished, the restaurant makes a fine appearance. It is planned that the new establishment will be open for business seven days a week from 8 a. m. until midnight serving breakfast, luncheon and dinners.

The short dedication program which started at noon sharp Wednesday opened with an invocation by Rev. Jesse Jay McNeil, a member of the Corrections Commission. President Bill Hines tells us that the new trap has been installed and the field is in perfect condition and also that the committee in charge of merchandise prizes have arranged that there will be prizes given to the high scoring shooters in each class at every scheduled shoot.

The membership committee has been very active this past few months and a considerable number of new members will be shooting this year. The membership dues are $5 per season and members will shoot at $1.00 per round plus the cost of shells which the shooter may furnish or can be purchased on the club grounds at $2.50 per box. Non-members will be charged $1.25 per round and may furnish their own shells or buy them on the field at $2.50 per box.

The committee has asked the Avalanche to announce that all shooters in Grayling and the surrounding areas are most cordially invited to attend the shoots. Just come to the field located adjacent to the six green at the Grayling Golf Club. Bring your "shootin' iron" and plan for an afternoon of real pleasure with your fellow sportsmen.

Five men spent part or all of the holiday week end in the Crawford County Jail. Three of the men, all from Flint, were held here after their arrest in Roscommon County by State Police on drunk and disorderly charge. They were taken to Justice Court in Roscommon County Tuesday morning.

The other two men appeared before Justice of the Peace Arthur Clough on Saturday. William H. Thompson, 25, of Falmouth pleaded guilty to a charge of furnishing to a minor and was sentenced to five days in the County Jail and a fine of $50.

County Men Speak In Short Program

Camp LaVictoire Ready To House 86 Trustees

The second Corrections-Conservation work camp for prison inmates in Crawford County was dedicated in a short ceremony Wednesday noon by officials of the State Corrections Commission and Conservation Department heads.

The new camp which houses a crew of 83 construction workers at the present time, will begin to receive prison inmates until the full allotment of 86 are installed. The new camp is located in the same general area as Camp Lehman, the first prison camp located in Crawford County. The new camp is located north of M-93 about 3 miles west of US-27.

The camp was named in honor of Dr. Isaac N. LaVictoire, a Corrections Department employee who later died as the result of action during World War II in the Philippines.

The short dedication program which started at noon sharp Wednesday opened with an invocation by Rev. Jesse Jay McNeil, a member of the Corrections Commission. Chairman of the Corrections Commission spoke next with the actual dedications being made by Rabbi Joshua S. Sperka, Chaplain, Department of Corrections.

The plaque in honor of Dr. LaVictoire was unveiled by his widow, Mrs. Daisy LaVictoire, R. N. The presentation of the Colours was made by an Honor Guard of the Post 106, American Legion of Grayling. Short talks were then given by William T. Miller, Chairman of the Crawford County Board of Supervisors.

Due to the myriad demands in this area for work on Conservation projects, the Corrections Commission decided on Crawford County for the second camp. With the large amount of state owned land in this county and surrounding counties plus several large State Parks, the location was desirable. Also, the terrain which no doubt weighed the scale heavily in favor of Crawford County, has been the fine relations between the first Camp Lehman and the people of Crawford County.

Mrs. Daisy LaVictoire, widow of Dr. LaVictoire, who unveiled the plaque at the camp Wednesday noon, is now the supervisor of psychiatric nurses at the Traverse City State Hospital.

Dr. LaVictoire in whose honor the camp was dedicated, was a graduate of Yale University (M.D. 1928) had served for a while as psychiatrist at Kalamazoo State Hospital. He first came to the Corrections Department in 1937 at the Michigan Reformatory at Ionia and later made trips to Marquette and part-time psychiatrist in 1940 he came to SPSM as psychiatrist and director of classification and served here until shortly before Pearl Harbor. The mere mention of his name brings many pleasant memories from oldtimers in the prison who were advised and helped by Dr. "Ike."

An officer in the Naval Reserve, Dr. LaVictoire was called to active duty as battalion surgeon with the rank of captain in the U. S. Marine Corps to do psychiatric work. He was later stationed at the U. S. Naval Hospital, Ganado, P. I., and was taken prisoner by the Japanese on January 2, 1942 and interned at Santa Scholastica, Pasay, and Bilbilid.

He later endured the death march of those immortals who were driven like animals to the dreaded Cabanatuan prison camp. Stories later reached this country of the valiant work he did administering aid to his suffering fellow-prisoners. There are men to this day who say they owe their lives to the medical care and help they received from Dr. LaVictoire at Cabanatuan.

In January, 1945, a band of American Rangers staged a daring raid on the Japanese prison camp at Camp Cabanatuan, and Dr. LaVictoire was among the lucky ones to be rescued. His emotional condition was such, however, that he was immediately flown to the United States for medical care. The Navy Department granted him a promotion to rank of Commander (specialist) dated back to 1942, together with a Presidential Citation.

Upon his return to SPSM for a short visit, his immediate friends were shocked and saddened to find that Dr. LaVictoire was a mere shadow of the boyish fellow who liked to play ball in the big yard. He was worn-out man who had lost 75 pounds.

Dr. LaVictoire returned to his home at Pigeon, Michigan, there to try and recuperate from the horrors and privations of his imprisonment. But generalized infection had damaged his heart and on the day of his passing he suffered three violent attacks within an hour. His physician friends at nearby Caro State Hospital made a vigorous effort to save him but there was nothing they could do.

Officials and inmates alike mourned the death of one of the best liked officials of SPSM on the day he was buried with full military honors at Arlington National Cemetery, Washington, D. C.

This little guy didn't weigh much more than a pound when born last winter, but already, now that it's spring, he is getting husky. He and all his brothers and all the mothers are out and ambling in to northern Michigan woods these days and the best policy is to leave them alone. The mothers are most dangerous, game men warn, when the cubs are "cute little fellows" and for safety's sake, all should be avoided as much as possible.

Let's Keep It That Way

The Avalanche believes that a big "vote of thanks" is due to the Grayling Sportsmen's Club, the Boy Scouts, and Conservation officers and others who took part in the cleaning of the main stream of the AuSable River from Grayling to Burton's Landing. Over three-quarters of a ton of debris was removed. The Avalanche believes that we should keep the river that way.

We checked with Prosecuting Attorney Charles E. Moore and he referred us to Act 350 of Michigan Statutes as amended in the Public Acts of 1951. Section 1 of this act states that "It shall be unlawful for any person to put into the waters under the jurisdiction of this State or on the ice covering said waters, any offal, blood, putrid brine, putrid fish or filth of any description that will tend to stupefy, injure or kill fish, or to throw or deposit, or permit to be deposited or placed in any of the waters under the jurisdiction of this State or on the ice covering said waters, any glass, cans or bottles, any metal objects rubbish, garbage, or any other substance likely to injure any person, fish, bird or animal, or to cause any unsightly or unsanitary condition, either in or upon said waters or on the shore line adjacent thereto."

Prosecutor Moore also pointed out that the punishment for failure to live up to this law is a fine up to $100.00 and imprisonment up to 90 days in the County Jail.

As we stated at the beginning of this article, we feel those responsible for starting the clean-up project should be commended and we understand that further such clean-ups are planned for later in the season. However, we feel that in some way we should keep the river clean now that it has been carefully cleared of debris.

A law to prevent such spreading of refuse is on the books, most people want the river clean and pure, it is that small minority who "don't care." Just how to halt the dumping of trash in the river, we don't know. All the Avalanche can do is point out that the river, our highways, woods and lakes are our show window to attract nature lovers and sportsmen to our community. It is up to us to somehow keep them clean and attractive. Naturally it can't be expected that the river could be patrolled at all times by law enforcement officers.

About the first step in the problem, as we see it, is to be sure that each of us is careful to not throw anything of a debris-type into our streams and lakes. Next to impress it upon our children, friends and neighbors when the opportunity presents itself. These two simple steps would help a great deal. Let's you and I do all we can to keep our river clean—and pass on the importance of it to all lovers of the wonders of Nature that we know.—R. W. S.

State Senator Prescott Visits Grayland Kiwanis

Senator Charles Prescott, who has one of the largest cattle ranches in Michigan, presented the challenging aspect of a third cycle of economic development at a meeting of the Grayland Kiwanis Club on Thursday, June 24.

The speaker said that the third cycle involved the use of cut over "secondary" land of Northern Michigan to grazing lands for cattle.

He described the cycle as "be- ing here." He stated that it is important that everyone get a vision of it.

"If you can think of any better factory than a bunch of Hereford cattle, I'd like to see it," he told his audience. The speaker said if a factory with a big payroll came into town businessmen would offer a site and all kinds of encouragement. But he said that the development of the cattle industry in this area would bring year-round income which would help everyone regardless of their business.

Prescott said that the county has already made big strides with its Northern Michigan Beef Breeders Association.

But much more can be done because this area has "the best grazing land in Michigan," he said.

Prescott described "the cow and calf business" as the safest of the cattle industry.

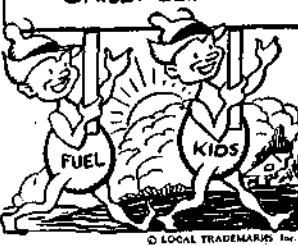

He cited the developments he pioneered in the northeastern part of the state as an example of what can be done to expand develop the cattle business. Accompanying him on his to Grayland was his son, Bill Prescott. The Prescotts are friends of Paul Dixon of the Crawford State Bank, who was program chairman for the night.

IS FIRST AID TO

YOUR POCKETBOOK!

INSURANCE

Is Not All The Same.

It costs so little for adequate auto insurance. A weak tire, a faulty brake lining, or someone's carelessness can mean disaster for you. Don't take chances—the proper insurance can protect you from loss or lawsuit. Don't wait for the accident—insure first, be sure, always.

"You can expect the most raiding in the best melon patch"

You can bet your bottom dollar on it.

Come next year, or the year after that, you'll be seeing on other cars some of the styling features you see in Buick today.

We expect it. It has happened before. And there is good reason for it — popular appeal.

Take, for example, the car model shown here.

We call it a Riviera. Most people call it a "hardtop."

When Buick introduced this body type in 1949, it was a completely new thing. And it was an instant hit.

Today, Buick "hardtops" outsell all other models in the line. It's the styling America has taken to its heart.

So today you find that every major car maker has his own version of this Buick original. (And we can't blame them a bit. They know a good thing when they see it.)

Maybe you've noticed other such borrowings from Buick.

reflected in the styling of other cars — or will be soon.

For you can be sure that the great panoramic windshield first shown by Buick this year will be copied. It's too good to pass up.

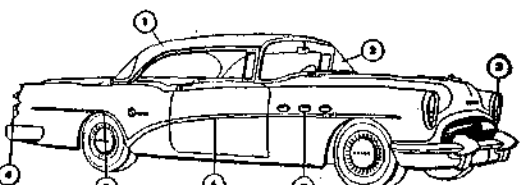

And you can be sure that the full rear-wheel cutout now on every 1954 Buick Riviera and Convertible will show up elsewhere in the future. It's a sports-car touch that hits a really popular note.

We're sure of such things.

We're sure because the tomorrow-styled Buick of today seems to be just what people want. Because Buick sales are soaring. Because Buick now outsells every other car in America except two of the so-called "low-price three."

So to you we say—why wait another day to see and drive a new Buick? It's the beauty of the year. It's the buy of the times. And it's a wonderful way to head up the parade.

Drop in this week for a demonstration, won't you?

KEY TO SOME STYLING "FIRSTS" BY BUICK

- 1 Riviera "hardtop" body type
- 2 Panoramic windshield
- 3 V-shaped hoodlamp grouping
- 4 Hooded tail light assembly on Skylark
- 5 Full rear-wheel cutout
- 6 Fender sweep-spoilers
- 7 Ventiports (Remember Buick's first ventiports on front fenders! Some folks even bought copies of these chrome rings to put on jalopies!)

GLASS BLOCK ADDS FUNCTIONAL BEAUTY

Functional beauty is added to the front entrance of this home by the vertical panels of glass block which flank the door. During the day, they help to bring daylight to the foyer. At night, the sparkling glass block transmits light from the interior to brighten the entranceway. Because of its resistance to both heat and cold the glass block contributes to the overall insulating efficiency of the entire house.

SCIENCE and your Health

SUMMER RASHES
By Science Features

Along with pleasures—sunny weather, swimming and other outdoor sports—summer brings many special medical problems. Skin rashes such as poison ivy, prickly heat and “swimmer’s itch” are usually evident only during this time of the year and often cause great annoyance for vacationers.

One hot-weather rash known as prickly heat results from the plugging up of the sweat glands which then become infected.

According to some doctors, the best way to prevent this condition (more easily said than done) is to keep the skin cool and dry. For those who can’t get cooled off the modern way, talcum powder or calamine lotion is recommended.

Poison ivy, which occurs everywhere in the world except North America, has been plaguing vacationers for centuries. For those who are susceptible, even a touch of its sticky red-edged leaves for those unfortunate enough to get poison ivy, Dr. Leon P. Goldman of the University of Cincinnati and other skin specialists report practical results with a new hormone drug known as hydrocortisone. An ointment form of this drug such as Cortel can halt itching within hours and clear up severe cases of poison ivy within a few days, the doctors said.

The price of a cool summer dip, especially in small, sheltered lakes, may be a case of “swimmer’s itch.” Caused by microscopic larvae and spread by snails and water fowl, “swimmer’s itch” will appear as a rash a few minutes after a bathers gets out of the water. The rash will disappear for ten hours and then return to stay for a week. There is no treatment for this itch other than soothing lotion.

SUMMER RASHES
By Science Features

Along with pleasures—sunny weather, swimming and other outdoor sports—summer brings many special medical problems. Skin rashes such as poison ivy, prickly heat and “swimmer’s itch” are usually evident only during this time of the year and often cause great annoyance for vacationers.

One hot-weather rash known as prickly heat results from the plugging up of the sweat glands which then become infected.

According to some doctors, the best way to prevent this condition (more easily said than done) is to keep the skin cool and dry. For those who can’t get cooled off the modern way, talcum powder or calamine lotion is recommended.

Poison ivy, which occurs everywhere in the world except North America, has been plaguing vacationers for centuries. For those who are susceptible, even a touch of its sticky red-edged leaves for those unfortunate enough to get poison ivy, Dr. Leon P. Goldman of the University of Cincinnati and other skin specialists report practical results with a new hormone drug known as hydrocortisone. An ointment form of this drug such as Cortel can halt itching within hours and clear up severe cases of poison ivy within a few days, the doctors said.

The price of a cool summer dip, especially in small, sheltered lakes, may be a case of “swimmer’s itch.” Caused by microscopic larvae and spread by snails and water fowl, “swimmer’s itch” will appear as a rash a few minutes after a bathers gets out of the water. The rash will disappear for ten hours and then return to stay for a week. There is no treatment for this itch other than soothing lotion.

SUMMER RASHES
By Science Features

Along with pleasures—sunny weather, swimming and other outdoor sports—summer brings many special medical problems. Skin rashes such as poison ivy, prickly heat and “swimmer’s itch” are usually evident only during this time of the year and often cause great annoyance for vacationers.

One hot-weather rash known as prickly heat results from the plugging up of the sweat glands which then become infected.

According to some doctors, the best way to prevent this condition (more easily said than done) is to keep the skin cool and dry. For those who can’t get cooled off the modern way, talcum powder or calamine lotion is recommended.

Poison ivy, which occurs everywhere in the world except North America, has been plaguing vacationers for centuries. For those who are susceptible, even a touch of its sticky red-edged leaves for those unfortunate enough to get poison ivy, Dr. Leon P. Goldman of the University of Cincinnati and other skin specialists report practical results with a new hormone drug known as hydrocortisone. An ointment form of this drug such as Cortel can halt itching within hours and clear up severe cases of poison ivy within a few days, the doctors said.

The price of a cool summer dip, especially in small, sheltered lakes, may be a case of “swimmer’s itch.” Caused by microscopic larvae and spread by snails and water fowl, “swimmer’s itch” will appear as a rash a few minutes after a bathers gets out of the water. The rash will disappear for ten hours and then return to stay for a week. There is no treatment for this itch other than soothing lotion.

How Much Will The Seaway Benefit Michigan?

Michigan citizens will see and learn more about the Seaway and its benefits to Michigan when the Seaway Development Commission meets at a public hearing in Grayling, Michigan, on Tuesday, July 13, 1954, at 8:00 o'clock P. M. The hearing will be held in the Court House in Grayling, Michigan.

The Seaway Development Commission was organized in 1953 to study the possibilities of developing the Great Lakes as a waterway for international commerce. The commission's report will be submitted to the U. S. Congress in 1955.

Major benefits will be derived from the Seaway, including increased trade, improved navigation, and the development of new industries. The Seaway will also provide a means of transportation for bulk commodities, such as iron ore, coal, and grain.
